IFPA Coaching Program

The program at a glance

The coaching program is developed to encourage and support knowledge exchange within IFPA. Individuals from any IFPA member organization are very welcome to submit applications to be a coach, if they have skills or experiences that can be of help for other psoriasis patient associations. Any IFPA member organization that wishes to expand their knowledge or build skills in a specific area is also welcome and highly encouraged to apply to the coaching program. We believe that this program offers IFPA members a mutually beneficial opportunity to share skills and experiences and will lead to a more connected federation.

Who can join the coaching program?

The program is open for IFPA members only.

As a coach:

There are many highly experienced professionals within the IFPA community, with knowledge and experience that can be shared with other members to enable them to develop in areas they are looking to improve.

If you have skills or experience in something you think could be useful for other IFPA members, and you are willing to share your knowledge with others – sign up to be a coach!

As a recipient:

There are always things you could learn more about or new skills to develop. If you know of something that would help your organization grow you can sign up to receive coaching and support.

Program structure

Application:

- Individuals with relevant expertise can apply to participate as coaches. Individuals applying to coach should specify their area of expertise in the application.
- IFPA members interested in developing skills can apply to receive coaching. Member associations must specify what they want support with.

Training for coaches:

- Individuals that register to be coaches must take part in an IFPA Ambassador training. The training consists of one online session.

Connection:

- IFPA member associations will be connected with a suitable coach.

Timeframe:

- The length of coaching is decided depending on what the goal of coaching is.
- Members and individuals can apply for coaching at any time.

Completion:

- After the coaching has been completed, coaches and recipients will be asked to fill out a short report about their project and experience in the coaching program.

Training for coaches

All individuals applying to be coaches will receive an introduction to the program by IFPA. During the introduction IFPA will go through resources and tools that are available for participants of the coaching program. The IFPA Ambassador training may be given in connection with the program introduction session, as completing the ambassador training is a criterion to be an IFPA Coach.

IFPA will also conduct an initial planning session with all coaches to go through learning plan, focus for coaching sessions, reporting and overall coordination.
